THE DRAMA.

Colonel A. J. Kellar made his first appearance last night before a Memphis udience in the New Memphis Theater. He had not a large, but an appreciative andience. As we publish a news-paper, which reports all that occurs of interest, we give Colonel Kellar's harangue in full. It is difficult to locate his entertrinment. We are unable to tell whether he made his appearance last night as a tragedian or as a comedian, He would be a success as a ground and lofty tumbler, or the India-rubber man who can place himself in all sorts of strange postures. Our greatest officers to dauge the growth, with all the to dauge from the audies to the first from the first postures. Our greatest officers to do the property of success to the still of our architects and the full the still of our architects and the full to the skill of our architects and the full forces. tions to Colonel Kellar is his fondness for enigmas, riddles, conundrums and charades. His performances last night at the Theater puzzled his audience. In this fast age of utility, progress and enterprise, when the world is grappling with the real and substantial, we have no disposition to waste our time in solving conundrums. A friend who has the key to unlock Colonel Kellar's cabinet of mysteries informs us that he intends to say by the speech which we publish this morning, that he is a candidate for Congress! This may possibly be a correct interpretation of his purposes, but in pondering the labyrinth of words we have been unable to discover what policy he will pursue should he get to Congress. We shall therefore ignore Colonel Kellar as a political mytery during the canvass, and look to the two candidates whose positions are broad, distinct and well defined. Barbour Lewis is the Radical candidate for Congress. Everyhody knows where he stands. He is for Grant and his corrupt and infamous administration; for the perpetuation of hate, that such carpethag thieves as himself may rob and plunder the people. His opponent is Hon. L. C. Haynes, a gentleman, "arms peur et sans reproche"-a statesman of lofty ability and a patriot who has faithfully served the people of Tennessee in the Legislature of the State and in the Confedemte Congress. The views of Colonel Haynes are as distinct as the noonday' sun. He is for Horace Greeley, peace, aninesty, honesty, retrenchment, re-South on the basis; of liberty, equality and fraternity. These are some things Colonel Haynes may do; but there is one thing he will not do. During this can vass he will not perform the part of a hyens, and drag from their peaceful and honored graves the bones of such statesmen as John Bell and Stephen A. Douglas for the purpose of subserving despicable party ends. Such is the contest in this district. It is be-

Haynes.
